Sabal Palm: A Community Partnership School Happy Palm Parent Involvement Month

November is National Family Engagement Month

It's Here!!! National Family Engagement Month and Sabal Palm: A Community Partnership School is excited to celebrate our amazing parents throughout the entire month! We recognize that parents are the first educators in their child's life and therefore play the biggest determining factor in their academic achievements. We are encouraging families to commit to a month of nightly family discussions. This calendar will include different thought-provoking questions to ask your child and activities to do with your child each night for the entire month. These questions and activities are designed to help reinforce a more in-depth, yet fun, communication within the family unit. We are requesting that you take and post some of your pictures to highlight your family involvement on the days listed for pictures. Please email all pictures to Randolph-hollisr@leonschools.net and Javon.Austin@chsfl.org
