Patriot Day 9/11

Today we learned about Patriot Day which is a day of remembrance to honor the victims and first responders of 9/11. We read "The Man in the Red Bandana" which is about a man who helped save lives during the attack. Our lesson was designed for 3rd grade students (very age-appropriate) and may be the first time that they have learned much about the event. This would be a great time to ask your child what they learned and help them to understand some of the images that they see on television and the computer.

Progress Reports- Wednesday, 9/15

It is hard to believe that we are already at the halfway point for the 1st 9 weeks! Please check your child's grades through the FOCUS portal and let me know if you have any questions. You may notice that they have no Science grades at this point. We have been studying Government for the first part of the term and will switch to science topics in the next 2 weeks.

Pirate Day/ Constitution Day- Friday, 9/17

Thank you to everyone who volunteered to send things in for our celebration next Friday. Students will be participating in some fun activities and learning about our Constitution to celebrate. 😊 Please send in any supplies by next Wednesday if possible.

A.R. Reading/SSYRA Books

Please continue to have your child read nightly in order to make sure they meet their goal. I am so proud of how many of our class have taken up the challenge of reading the Sunshine State Young Readers Books (SSYRA). These are books that Media Center Specialists in the state have chosen as some of the best new books out for children. Mrs. Stephens will be having a celebration at the end of the year for students that read all 15 of them. If you want more information, you can look on the Roberts website under Media Center. The race is on to read them all!
