

WORKING AFTER RETIREMENT

For FRS Investment Plan

Reemployment Rules for Investment Plan Members

Returning to work with a Florida Retirement System (FRS)-participating employer too soon after retirement could be a costly mistake. Read this brief flyer to be sure you don't shortchange yourself in retirement.

What You Need to Know

If you return to work, in any capacity, with an FRS-participating employer after retiring from the Investment Plan but before satisfying the required waiting period, any distributions you're receiving may be temporarily suspended and you may have to repay any distributions you have already received.

When do I become an Investment Plan retiree?

You become an Investment Plan retiree once you terminate employment with all FRS-participating employers¹ and you take a distribution of any kind from the Investment Plan. Distributions include employee contributions, lump-sum payouts, annuities, and rollovers to other retirement plans.

Caution!

The reemployment laws are very complex, and returning to work for an FRS-participating employer after you've retired may have significant financial consequences.

Before taking any distribution from your Investment Plan account or returning to work for an FRS-participating employer, we strongly recommend you call the MyFRS Financial Guidance Line at 1-866-446-9377, Option 2.

Questions?

Before initiating an Investment Plan distribution and becoming an Investment Plan retiree, call the MyFRS Financial Guidance Line at 1-866-446-9377, Option 2 (TRS 711), available 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. ET, Monday through Friday, except holidays, to understand the impact of returning to employment with an FRS-participating employer.

When can an Investment Plan retiree return to work with an FRS-participating employer?

You can return to work with an FRS-participating employer at any time; however, returning within 12 calendar months of becoming an Investment Plan retiree may require you to repay any distribution received, as described below.

If you are an Investment Plan retiree and return to work ¹ with an FRS-participating employer:
Within 6 Calendar Months	You (and possibly your employer) will be required to repay the distribution you received. To avoid repayment, wait a full 6 calendar months from the month you took your distribution or rollover to return. If you've already been rehired, terminate your employment and return after satisfying the 6-calendar-month period.	You must notify the Investment Plan Administrator of your employment during this period by calling the MyFRS Financial Guidance Line at 1-866-446-9377, Option 4.
During Calendar Months 7 to 12	Any distributions you are receiving from the Investment Plan will stop until 12 calendar months have elapsed since you became an FRS retiree or you terminate employment with all FRS-participating employers. ²
After 12 Calendar Months	You will not be required to repay any prior distributions, and you may continue receiving distributions from the Investment Plan without interruption.

Can I join the Investment Plan again after I have retired from the FRS?

Yes. If you return to FRS-covered employment after taking an Investment Plan distribution (effective for reemployed service on or after July 1, 2017), you are considered a "reemployed retiree" or "renewed member." As an Investment Plan renewed member, you are required to participate in the FRS Investment Plan.³ As a renewed member, you are not eligible to participate in the Pension Plan or DROP, receive disability benefits, or use the 2nd Election to switch to the Pension Plan.

Do these reemployment rules apply if I am hired by a non-FRS employer?

No. After becoming an FRS retiree, being hired by a private employer or a non-FRS public employer⁴ will have no impact on your Investment Plan distributions (except for disability retirement — see below).

Would being rehired affect my FRS disability benefits?

Yes. You cannot receive disability benefits if you are employed. Your FRS disability benefits will be terminated upon returning to work for any employer (includes private, non-FRS, and FRS-participating employers).

² If you are a retired law enforcement officer and you are reemployed as a school resource officer by an FRS-participating employer during calendar months 7 through 12 after your retirement date, you will receive both your salary and retirement benefits.

⁴ If you are retiring from an employer that no longer offers FRS membership to new employees and you plan to return to employment with this same employer after termination, please call the Division of Retirement at 1-866-446-9377, Option 3, to determine what reemployment restrictions apply.

Returning to work with an FRS-participating employer too soon after retirement could be a costly mistake. Read this brief flyer to be sure you don't shortchange yourself in retirement.

What You Need to Know

Once you become a Pension Plan retiree:

- You will not be able to rejoin the FRS — even if you return to work with an FRS-participating employer.

When do I become a Pension Plan retiree?

You become a Pension Plan retiree once you have terminated employment with all FRS-participating employers, established an effective retirement date through the application process, and cashed or deposited a benefit payment (including direct deposit). You are considered retired as of your effective retirement date. If you participate in the DROP, your effective retirement date is your DROP begin date. The termination and reemployment limitations apply to you beginning the calendar month after your termination date.

Caution!

The reemployment laws are very complex, and returning to work for an FRS-participating employer after you've retired may have significant financial consequences.
