

Pre-K Post

September 6, 2024

This week's question was, Who works at our school? We took a walk to the front office and met Ms. Goodwin and Ms. Goode and learned about what they do in the office every day. Mrs. Martin, our principal came and read the Gingerbread Man to us. We also had a visit from our school's bookkeeper, Ms. Violet. When we walk around the campus, we see so many people that work at our school.

Tuesday, we had a special guest (Elryn's dad from Mrs. Bonn's class) visit us at school to show us how to juggle. Then we juggled scarves. It was a fun event.

In reading/math small groups we worked on identifying shapes and making shapes on geoboards. We decorated gingerbread boys and girls with shapes. We also identified letters of the alphabet and spelled our names with the letter cards and name puzzles.

In read-aloud we read, The Gingerbread Man, Neighborhood Song, and Papi, How Many Stars in the Sky.

After Mrs. Martin, our principal, visited and read another version of the Gingerbread Man to us, we made homemade gingerbread cookies. We learned about different spices, and explored whole cloves and ginger roots. Then we decorated gingerbread cookies and completed several gingerbread man activities. Ask them if they know another word for a good smell. Hopefully they will respond with the word aroma. 😊

Thank you for your support of our color activities. Next week, Monday and Tuesday are yellow days and Wednesday and Thursday are purple days. Friday, they can choose yellow or purple. Please wear the colors or a splash of the colors and bring in an item for the posters.

Thanks for checking Friday folders. You can still sign up for Remind messaging by texting @af6aagd96f to 81010.
