

Pre-K Post

October 2, 2020

This week has been all about friendship. Our two questions of the week were... How do we make and keep friends? How can we be a part of a group? We read several great books about friendship, including Hooray, A Pinata, Too Many Tamales, The Adventures of Gary and Harry and Elmer, the Elephant. We learned that friends enjoy being together and playing together, friends help each other, and friends don't always have to agree.

During our Mighty Minutes time, through movement, rhymes and games, we practiced our pre-reading skills: phonological awareness, phonics skills and word recognition. We recognized rhymes, units of sound, and letter identification. We also worked on number concepts and operations.

We made Elmer the Elephant with tissue paper and glue. We made and delivered cards to a friend, we created our own books and a pumpkin name puzzle.
