

Why Learn French?

French is spoken on five continents, it's the second most widely learned second language after English, and the fifth most commonly spoken language in the world.

French is an international language of cooking, fashion, science, theatre, and visual arts. If you know French, you can appreciate Molière, Edith Piaf, and Victor Hugo in their native languages.

You already know so many French words. A large percentage of English words come from French - we just have to work on your accent!

Learning French will make it much easier for you to learn other Romance languages, such as Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, and Romanian.

French is fun to learn! Nasal vowels, guttural R's, and liaison make French musical, and the language is analytical and develops critical thinking skills.

France is the world's top tourist destination, attracting 87 million visitors per year. Speaking French will greatly enhance your visit.
