

Background Research

- Your background research should consist of 2-3 paragraphs about your topic and about your question.
- The research should lead you to your hypothesis (next step.)
- For example, if you're topic is "Which type of chocolate melts the fastest?" and you find out that white chocolate is made with mostly sugar, it would lead you to the hypothesis that the white chocolate would melt fastest!
- For the above example, your research would tell about the different kinds of chocolate you plan to test!
