In this activity, you will identify the various functions in the computing cycle.

1. Read the following list of computer functions:
   - Processing
   - Output
   - Input
   - Storage

2. Study the diagram below, which represents the computing cycle of a computer system.

3. Write the name of each function into the correct section of the diagram.