Making Lists....

- Andrew
 - my dad
- JoAnne
 - my mom
- It
 - My brother
 - Okay- his name is Andy

- ◆ Change the layout of this slide to Title and Two columns
- ◆ Create a list of the names and relationship of the people who live in your home.
- ◆ Change the title of the slide to My Family. Format it the way you want.
- ◆ Change the Background of this slide only.
 - ⚡ You can change the bullets used in a list by right-clicking on the bullet. If you don't see the one you want, click the more bullets option. You can also highlight the bullets to change their color, size and font style.

Fun with Shape Lines & Fill

Guess...
How many shapes it took to make this graphic?

Can you make one?

1. Duplicate this slide. Then on this slide, delete the text box containing the graphic.
2. Use the rectangle shape and its fill, line weight, line color and line dash options to create your own graphic.
3. Stack the shapes. Arrange the shapes. Group the shapes. Have fun!

This is a table with four columns and three rows. The table line is dashed. There is a Word Art in one cell, a text box covering two cells.

1. Insert a new blank slide and create your own table. Do not copy and paste this one.
2. Add a fun border, add some text, play with Word Art.

Playing with Images

1. Insert an image of your favorite animal on the left and an image of your favorite cartoon character on the right.
2. Add a thick border around the image to frame it.
3. Change the background color of the placeholders to match your image.
4. Resize the placeholders to fit the slide better.
5. Add a text box with a link to your favorite restaurant. Make the textbox colorful.

Images with Frames

Time to play! Insert a new Title only slide.

1. Copy the image of your favorite cartoon character.
2. Resize it so you can place several copies of it on the slide.
3. Then copy and paste it on the slide.
4. Use the line weight, line color and line dash options to frame it.
5. Animate each image to zoom in after the previous one.

You can even use shapes and options from the Arrange menu. How creative are you?
