Virtual Supports for Teachers of Students with Significant Cognitive Disabilities

To support teachers instructing students with significant cognitive disabilities virtually as a result of school closures, the Access Project has started to compile a list of online resources.

At the time of this newsletter, the resources listed are free. With the current environment ever evolving, the Access Project is not able to vet all resources on a continuing basis. This may result in some sites being inundated thus not able to offer supports as first reported, sites starting to require fees for services, or availability in some areas.

This is not a complete list. If there are online resources that you use and would like to recommend
